Re: Supervision of a pharmacy student

I would like to introduce you to an exciting component within the Florida A&M University College of Pharmacy curriculum. Our first professional year pharmacy students will be participating in shadowing experiences in your practice settings. We welcome your participation as both an instructor and mentor. Student objectives include: applying the knowledge they acquire in didactic coursework in practice settings with real patients, enhanced communication skills and professional behaviors, and the ability to collaborate in a healthcare related setting. With your guidance, their experiences will be meaningful and open the door to future service activities. Please regularly provide comments and insights to the student.

Please address confidentiality, appropriate dress, and organizational policy with the student beforehand. Be assured that students understand HIPPA and are well-versed in the importance of client confidentiality. Students will complete written assignments on their experience and will provide you with a form to document his/her service hours and to briefly assess his/her performance.

If there are any further questions, please feel free to call or email me at anytime.

Thank you again for your agreement to supervise a pharmacy student.

Sincerely,

Patty Ghazvini, PharmD.
